FREE BOOKS FOR LIBRARIES

MOTT'S. USA., a longtime sponsor of reading and educational programs, is proud to announce the Mott's® Library Reading Program, a unique opportunity for Americans to support their local library.

Up to $500,000 worth of books and other library materials can be earned among participating libraries nationwide!

Mott's®, in cooperation with Friends of Libraries U.S.A., the national network of library volunteers, has designed a special program to support you: The Mott's® Library Reading Program. By participating in this exciting new Program, you can help your library become eligible to receive free books and other library materials. And it's easy! Get your Friends program involved today!

With the help of library users, your library simply needs to collect proofs-of-purchase from any of the following Mott's® products: Mott's® Apple Juice, Juice Boxes, Apple Sauce and Single Serve Apple Sauce Fruit Snacks. Each Mott's® proof will be worth 25¢ towards the retail value of library books/materials. The more proofs collected, the more books/materials your library receives!

HOW DOES THE PROGRAM WORK?

After receiving your commitment to participate, Mott's® will send your library a special FREE kit containing everything you need to implement the 12-week program, scheduled to run from September through November, 1992. Included in this kit will be:

- a letter describing the Program in detail
- a generous supply of Parent Pages, a newsletter which encourages reading, storytelling and library usage, for distribution in your library

- a poster announcing a vacation sweepstakes for library users
- a press release your library can adapt and localize
- a list of ideas for individualizing the Program and promoting reading in your library
- reproducible artwork for use in your library fliers and mailings
- an attractive collection box for proofs-of-purchase
- a proof-of-purchase tally form and return envelope

At the conclusion of the Program, you simply count the proofs, fill out the tally form and send the envelope with proofs to Mott's. Your library will then be given a credit certificate redeemable through a national book wholesaler. It's just that simple!
